Webcam helps give nursery insight

A nursery has installed webcams into its playrooms to give parents peace of mind about their children's welfare.

Bridget Crane, owner of Little Angels Nursery in Market Harborough, has launched a secure website so parents can monitor their youngsters.

Webcams have been installed at several nurseries across the country

She came up with the idea after watching a TV documentary which highlighted neglect at various nurseries throughout the UK.

She said parents also enjoyed seeing what their children did at the nursery.
